THE GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS PENSION FUND (GIPF) URGES ALL MEMBERS TO VERIFY THEIR REGISTRATION STATUSES AND TO UPDATE MEMBER INFORMATION.

The Government Institutions Pension Fund (GIPF) would like to implore all its members to visit their employers HR offices, to verify whether they are registered on the Fund's systems. This is to ensure that their member information and that of their beneficiaries are updated on their Beneficiary Nomination Forms. Accurate member information and up-to-date Beneficiary Nomination Forms will assist GIPF to process and pay benefits that are due to members and beneficiaries timeously.

“The COVID-19 pandemic has once again shown us and the world at large that nothing is ever constant. Change is inevitable and we all need to embrace that change in order to secure our future. The best way to prepare for change is to effectively plan for the future. It is on this premise that the GIPF appeals to all members to complete or update their Beneficiary Nomination Forms on an annual basis. These forms are found at a member's HR office or at the nearest GIPF office. The completed form should be placed in the member's file at the member's HR office once completed.” said Anna Hambuda, Manager – Operations.

“GIPF members are advised to ensure that all their national documents and those of their beneficiaries, such as full birth certificates, identity cards and marriage certificates are accurate. We want to assist you efficiently and will continue to guard your investments to ensure a better tomorrow for you and your beneficiaries”, concluded Hambuda.
